CSR: stands for Corporate Social Responsibility. This activity is done for the social cause and for the betterment of society, and helps the needy people. This can be done by visiting NGOs or by keeping the environment neat, clean and safe.

About Mauli Seva Shushrusha Kendra:

It is an old age home situated in Dhankawadi, Pune. This old age home in Pune was initiated with the noble intention of looking after people who needed constant care and medical attention in a safe and clean environment. Old age homes are meant for senior citizens who are unable to stay with their families or are insolvent. The residential medical facility performs multiple functions catering to the needs of the patients and Mauli Seva Sushrusha Kendra is a successful organization to provide their services with an objective of homely nursing care for old age and bed ridden patients.

There are about 35 to 40 senior citizens residing in this old age home and are provided with the constant care and medical attention in a safe and clean environment. It is run by Dr. Prashant Waman who is always there to look after the people in the old age home. He has been providing these facilities to the needy senior citizens since 8 years. With this great work, he is making a big difference in the lives of the people there.

Activities Done:

We visited all the people in old age home and spent some time there. Our motive was to make a small change in their daily life so that to make them feel relaxed and free of all kinds of worries, tensions etc.

We first talked to them to make them feel connected with us. While talking we could actually see the pain and loneliness in each person's eye. All of them talked to us very nicely. We asked them about their hobbies and likings and encouraged them to pursue the same. They sang many songs and later we joined them too. They all enjoyed singing songs with us.

We also met the servants there. They were very caring and helpful with the senior citizens. They encouraged the senior citizens to talk to us. They all live together as one big family sharing lives together. Later we bought fruits and sugar free biscuits for them.

Learning's:

We observed that many of them were left alone by their children and we could see the same pain in their smiles. When they are more in need of love and affection from their children, they are left alone by their own children. It is unimaginable and a bitter truth. They are the one who nurture their children and make them competent to face everything in life and become successful. However they only get grief from their own children in the last days of life.

Many things were learnt from the visit. Children are the first and foremost part in the lives of their parents. Parents would do anything to see their children happy. And in the later stage of their lives, shouldn't they expect to be with their children? As their children are the only hope and motivation in their later stage of life.
